

KINVIT®, new vegan food based on fermented and dry-cured wheat and legumes

There are good news for healthy, organic and vegetable food lovers: it is KINVIT®. It's not another version of seitan or the new soy-based formulation but a nutritious and light food, easy to eat in so many new different ways.

The natural yeast developed on the farm and the particular production method transform wheat and legumes. The fermentation breaks down the molecular bonds of its ingredients, releasing nutrients more easily available.

⊕ Mérieux NutriSciences analysis are available on request.

Fermentation, maturation and dry process produce enzymes and aminoacids. The dry-curing phase before the packaging continues the process, KINVIT® increases flavor, taste and that peculiar texture so easy to cut.

KINVIT® is a vegetable organic food with a peculiar nutritional framework, made of organic flours from cereals and legumes: wheat, chickpeas and lupins.

Vital flours extracted at low temperatures and cold-pressed vegetable oils, spices and aromas obtained from individual spices.

KINVIT® and the natural yeasts are developed by Danilo Bertazzo. Kinvit® is produced exclusively at L'Araba Fe-nice Veg srl , Mestrino (PD).

The environment. Production processes requires low energy and resource (like water) consumption. The production process does not produce waste.

The electric energy used comes exclusively from renewable sources: hydroelectric, photovoltaic and wind power.

Packages are made of recycled PET, a choice necessary to protect vitality, quality and a correct shelf life too.

KINVIT® is now available:

- NATURALE (wheat and peas)
- CARPACCIO
- AFFUMICATO (smoked)
- with LUPINI (lupins)
